LIGHT SEEN OVER HARBOR BRIDGE

Reports of a strange light in the sky over the Harbor Bridge were telephoned to the Daily Telegraph last night.

Some of those who telephoned thought it might be a new star.

One man suggested it was an aeroplane.

All agreed it was conspicuous, bright and "like a star."

A Riverview Observatory watcher said it was probably the planet Mars.

This was the only conspicuous light he could see overhead.

And Mars was no brighter than usual.
